DESCRIPTION

A rare opportunity in one of the finest locations of Budapest's 12th district: an internal two-level penthouse apartment with unobstructed panoramic views and expansive terraces.

The apartment's exceptional qualities are evident from the very first moment: spacious interiors, numerous rooms, multiple bathrooms, two highly functional residential levels, and generous terrace areas that feel like a natural extension of the indoor living space.

The panorama is one of the property's defining features, offering breathtaking, open views from both the terraces and the main living areas.

The technical specification of the property also represents a premium standard. The apartment is equipped with a Loxone smart home system, allowing the most important home functions to be controlled with ease and intuition. Year-round comfort is ensured by ceiling heating and cooling, creating a discreet, modern, and evenly distributed indoor climate.

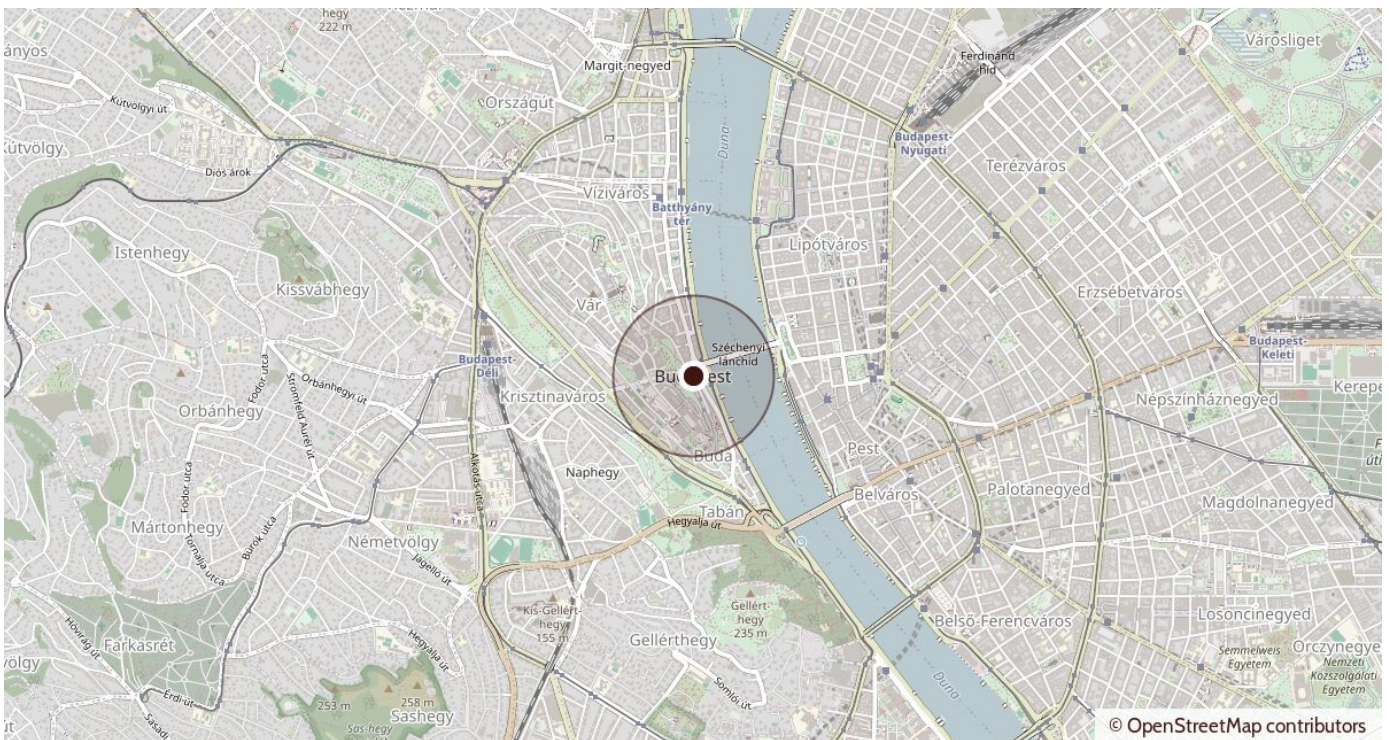

The expansive terrace areas are among the property's greatest assets. The outdoor living space is made even more comfortable by a large, motorised pergola, turning the terrace into far more than a visual feature: it becomes a truly usable, private panoramic living area.
